

PARTNERS FETED

The Westchester Children's Association recently hosted a barbecue on the grounds of the CV Rich Mansion in White Plains. The purpose of the event was to recognize and thank the association's partners and to highlight the numerous connections that exist among all the partners WCA has worked with over the years.

Guests were encouraged to draw lines on a "partners board" from their own organization to the many others they work with and that also work with the association as a way to highlight the interconnections. Since 1914, WCA has educated, advocated and mobilized support for policies and programs to improve children's lives in Westchester.

1. Allison Lake, WCA deputy director; Pat White of the county Department of Community Mental Health; Susan Wayne, president of Family Services of Westchester.

2. Jan Fisher, director of public affairs, Westchester Jewish Community Services.

3. Cora Greenberg, WCA executive director; Kevin Plunkett, deputy county executive; and Kathy Halas, executive director of the Child Care Council of Westchester.

4. Frank Williams Jr., executive director of the White Plains Youth Bureau and Saul Yanofsky, assistant dean at Westchester Community College.

5. Isabel Villar, executive director of El Centro Hispano.

6. Terry Kirchner, executive director of the Westchester Library System.

7. Guests enjoy the barbecue.

8. The finished "partners board."

All photograph identifications are from left unless otherwise noted.